Coughs.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate COUGHS, SORE THROAT, HOARSENESS and BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by hundreds and thousands of persons, their effectiveness has been established beyond all doubt.
They have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exercis-ion of the voice, and produces clear and distinct articulation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COLD, COUGH, CATARRH or Sore Throat requires immediate attention, as neglect oftentimes results in some incurable Lung Disease.
"Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Inhalations are offered for sale, many of which are for newly an entire generation. They have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

BRIEFLETS

—Muffle up.
—The stove and coal trades are lively.
—The Bower City Band went to Madison this afternoon to play at the Republican rally to-night.

—Hugobloom & Atwood's new ice house is being pushed toward completion. It is sixty by sixty feet, and will probably cost $1,000 or more.

—The work on the new office and warehouse of the cotton factory has commenced, and the building will be completed by December 1st. Rafterman & Andrews have the contract for the mason work, and Carlos Brown for the carpentry work.

—At the annual inspection of the Delaware Guards, last evening, there were 53 men in line. The rolls show 61 men, and there are 58 uniforms. The uniforms are of dark blue, and comply with the regulations laid down for the Wisconsin National Guard. They're handsome.

—Sunday evening Michael Mastell, one of the bosses of construction gangs on the new road to Beloit, got his left and badly mangled by a hand car, and received some injuries on the head. Dr.
Palmer attended to the wounds, and Mastell is able to be around, though by no means healed.

—Yesterday afternoon, as George B.
Wolf, of Shepshire, was driving along near Spring brook bridge, with two ladies in the buggy, his horse became frightened, and jumping, the whole party were ditched beside the road. The ladies did not seem to be injured, but Wolf was badly shaken up, and somewhat hurt, though it is thought not seriously.

—Some evil minded scribbler has been writing obscene words on the sidewalks of the First, Fourth and Fifth wards, and there the filthy language appeared full in sight of children, as well as women and men, who were on the streets Sunday.
The Marshall is anxious to find who this obscene chalk-scribbler is. The handwriting was evidently that of one who could use a pen well, as the words were well written, and accompanied with graceful flourishes, but the language was too filthy for repetition.

—We saw a novel picture to-day. It was a painting in oil executed by Miss Maria Williams, and presented a most natural winter scene. The perspective was wonderful, and was aided materially by the painting being on a concave surface; and surrounded as it was by an elegant velvet frame, it did present really a charming and life-like view of a snow-glad landscape. Enquiry revealed the fact that the foundation of this picture was only a wooden butter bowl. Thus disguised with beauty it was a novel indeed. Mr. George Williams, who started for the East this afternoon, took the painting with him.

HOW DID HE DIE?

The Body of Henry B. Williams, a Printer, Found Dead in the River Near Afton.

The body of a man was found Sunday in the river, about a mile above Afton, and was yesterday recognized as that of Henry B. Williams, a printer, who came to Beloit about three weeks ago, and for a short time worked in the Free Press office. He appeared at times to be of an unsound mind, but little attention was paid to him, and nothing was thought of his leaving the city. He claimed to be from Leavenworth, and letters found on his person indicated that he has some property there.
A week ago he left Beloit, and the appearance of the body was that he was drowned several days ago. There is a theory that he committed suicide, but others doubt this, and intimate foul play.

COUNTY COURT.

As the next November term of the County Court falls on election day, November 2d, it will be adjourned to Wednesday, November 2d.

AMOS P. PURCHARD,
County Judge.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY FRANKLIN A. FERRISS, DRUGGIST.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 28 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day at 23 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M. at 27 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 43 degrees above.

SERGEANT CHILDERS.

He Recovers a Gunshot Wound which Will Doubtless Prove Fatal.

Sunday afternoon an accident befell Sergeant Childers, which will doubtless cost him his life. He was on Lake Koshconong, in company with a friend named Murphy, and while in the boat his partner seeing a flock of ducks raised his gun to fire. Childers crouched in the boat and his friend fired over him, but as Childers raised up again, his friend fired the second barrel the contents of which struck Childers in the back of the head near the top, blowing away a portion of his skull, and some brains. At last accounts he was still alive but there seemed no hope for his recovery.

Sergeant Childers is well known here, both as a temperance speaker, a lecturer on natural history, a showman, a sportsman, and about the best drilled in fancy military movements with a gun of any man in the country. He has led a checkered career, and this will probably be the closing chapter in a life, which has but changes enough to make a romance.

TOBACCO SALES.

clusively for the Janesville Gazette, by

REPUBLICAN RAH.

The Rally at the Opera House, Last Evening, an Enthusiastic One.

Able Speeches by Hon. I. C.
Sloan and Hon. E. W.
Keyes.

The Doings.

Last evening the Republicans held a joyous gathering at the Opera house; and while they were not out in full force, which would have crowded the house to overflowing, yet the seats were well taken, and the audience not only filled up most of the parquet, dress circle, and gallery, but was of such a make-up as betokened the fact that intelligence and cleanliness were accompaniments of Republican enthusiasm. It was a good-sized and good-looking audience, and they bespoke by hearty rounds of applause their joy over the victories gained in Indiana and Ohio, and their approval of the claims and thoughts set forth by the speakers of the evening.

The night was cold, and there was little chance for any street parade, but the guns boomed their hurrah, and the Bower City Band gave an outdoor serenade while the crowd was gathering.
When once the audience had got fairly seared there appeared upon the stage Hon. J. B. Cassaday, Hon. H. A. Patterson, A. H. Baxter, Esq., Cyrus Miner, Hon. F. S. Lawrence, S. J. M. Putnam, A. A. Jackson, and other of our prominent citizens, and the speakers of the evening Hon. I. C. Sloan and Hon. E. W. Keyes, of Madison. The Bower City Band occupied the orchestra, and after an opening piece, A. H. Baxter, Chairman of the Republican club, introduced as Chairman of the evening, Hon. J. B. Cassaday, who was received with hearty cheers.

Mr. Cassaday spoke of the victories lately won, and this called forth applause again. He predicted that as the Democrats had been crying for a change, a change was being made, but it was not the downfall of Republicanism, but a change from law regulated by the shotgun, to liberty regulated by law. He predicted that the Northern states, which had been deemed doubtful, would become Republican in November, and that a solid South would hereafter content itself with legitimate politics. He then introduced Hon. I. C. Sloan, in a happy manner, and that gentleman came to the front amid enthusiastic applause, and in a calm, clear manner, spoke for an hour or so, and was frequently endorsed by the applause of his hearers.

Mr. Sloan in his opening spoke of the importance and duty of every man voting. The vote of the most rugged and lowly was of equal force with that of the highest and wealthiest, and no man had the right to shirk the responsibility of saying who should rule this nation. He then pictured the records of the two parties who were asking for votes. He drew a line between individual Democrats and the Democratic party, as a party, between war Democrats and peace Democrats. Taking as a text the first plank in the Democratic platform, in which was endorsed all the past records, leeching and traditions of the party, he proceeded to show what it was that was thus endorsed.
He pictured the contradictory positions taken by the party on the financial questions, how it had opposed all the attempts of the Republican party to establish a sound banking system, reliable currency, and resumption. He showed their inconsistency, in first urging inflation, and then crying hard money, and made such a showing of their financial record as put the party in a very bad light. He then contrasted this with the steady pursue, brave tenacity, and glorious achievements of the Republican party, and how in spite of Democratic opposition it had restored the country's credit and prosperity.

He then picked up the record of the Democratic party concerning slavery, and made some clear scorching showings of truth on this point. His review of the past, and his presentation of the present, was strong, and he clinched his arguments so snugly that there were no weak points to break. In closing, he pictured the two candidates, the one with a record, the other with none. He said no bitter things against Hancock, but described him simply as a professional soldier, who had no knowledge or experience of the affairs of town or state, and in strange contrast with this presented the life and doings of Garfield, a man who had won success by his own industry and brains, who had been in public life for years, and was known by all to be honest and able.

Mr. Sloan in speaking of the time when he left the Republican party to support Greeley, explained briefly his position at that time. He thought by the pretensions set forth by Democrats, that they had met with a change of heart, and were to lead a new life, but he found that it was only a ruse to catch votes, and gain victory, and he had gladly returned to the support of the Republican party.
As he closed his speech, and retired amid applause, Dr. Martin sang out from the dress circle, "Well, sir, you've given us a grand speech," and the crowd cheered again.

After some stirring music from the band, Mr. Cassaday introduced Hon. E.
W. Keyes, with some jocose reference to his being "the boss," and how some of the Democrats had said he wore horns, but now that Indiana and Ohio had gone Republican, there was no more need of horns. His pleasantry, and befitting tribute to Mr. Keyes as a Republican worker were evidently enjoyed by the audience, who laughed and cheered.

Mr. Keyes stirred everything up from the bottom, and those who thought he was only an ordinary speaker were happily surprised. Easy in words, enthusiastic in manner, and ready with thought, he carried the audience with him in a dashing charge upon Democracy. He gave a clear compendium of the Democratic campaigns since 1860, showing the inconsistency of the party, and their willingness to do anything to gain power, and endorse or pretend anything to hoodwink the people and get their votes.

Then he showed that the issue now was the same as that which was alive in 1861-5. It was a Solid South confronting the safety of the nation, and seeking to gain by the ballot what it could not gain by the bayonet.
It was time that the Northern men who are anxious for the prosperity and perpetuity of the nation should take the gauntlet thrown down, and unite solidly in saving the nation. The speaker showed how the Democratic party had clung to the heresy of States rights, and opposed the Republican belief of this being a national government and not a mere league of states, and a rope of sand.
He pictured out Hancock's lack of record, and then showed up his letter writing during this campaign, the inconsistencies of which plainly showed that he was willing to pledge himself to anything in order to alloy distrust and to gain votes, but the people could not thus be fooled.
Mr. Keyes' speech was so full of telling points that no synopsis would do it justice. He spoke for about an hour, and still the interest of the audience flagged not and the enthusiasm increased. At the close of his speech Hon. H. A. Patterson moved a vote of thanks to the speakers, which was carried with a will, and with three cheers for the Republican candidates the audience dispersed, the band playing as they scattered for the doors.

A CLOSE CALL.

The Guards Have a Sensation in the Shop of a Railroad Collision—The Boys all Safe—A Robbery.

The following telegrams received by us were the first tidings received of an accident which befell the train which bore the military towards Atlanta.

Special to the Gazette.
TILTON, Ga., Oct. 18—9:10 P. M.—We have collided with a caboose here, and will be delayed several hours.

J. B. Doe.

Special to the Gazette.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18—We arrived all safe. Guy Carter was robbed a minute after landing.

"THE GAZETTE."

By a special to the Inter-Ocean it appears that the engineer of another train about half a mile ahead of the excursion train discovered that the brakes were set, and soon the conductor signalled him to reverse and back up, which he did. The excursion train came along and crashed into the rear of the another train and crushing the baggage car, and wrecking also the baggage car of the excursion train, and telescoping its rear with the special car of the Rockford Rifles. Some twenty of the excursionists were cut and bruised, but none seriously. The engineer of the military train had his arm crushed. The conductor had his ankle sprained and foot crushed. Attorney H. M. Wicks, of Chicago, had his nose broken, and the fireman had his face scalded, but these were the most serious injuries.

Last evening there was a monster torchlight procession in Atlanta, and the Rockford, Janesville and Springfield militia arrived five hours later. They were received by salutes, escorted to the general square, and Governor Colquitt delivered an address in behalf of the State, and Mayor Calloun in behalf of the city. Responses were made by representatives of several states.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: I take pleasure in making the following statement: I have been afflicted with a disease of the kidneys for the past two years and have tried numerous remedies with only partial and temporary relief: Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was recommended to me and after taking it the pain and distress left me and I am today feeling strong and well. I am perfectly satisfied that Warner's Safe Remedies are the medicines needed and can cheerfully commend them to others.

G. W. STAMM.
I hereby certify that I have been a practising physician for twenty-seven years and for many chronic cases in my practice do recommend Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It was upon my advice that G. W. Stamm, the editor obtained this valuable remedy.

PERSONAL.

—Rev. Olin Curtis, who has been filling the pulpit at Sharon this summer, and who is now in attendance at the conference at Appleton was married last week at De-have many friends here who will be ready to offer personal congratulations whenever opportunity affords.

—D. W. Watt, who has been serving as Treasurer for Burr Robbins this summer, has returned, and within a few hours after his arrival was to be found selling goods in the big clothing house of M. C.
Smith & Son, where he will remain this winter. That's just like him. He don't waste any time, and his energy, faithfulness and ability, always command for him a good chance in the world, and always will.

Strong Evidence.

I have sold at retail price since the 1st of December last 106 bottles of Dr.
Thomas' Electric Oil, guaranteeing every bottle. I must say that I never sold a medicine in my life that gave such universal satisfaction. In my own case, with a badly ulcerated throat, after a to no effect, the Electric Oil cured it thoroughly in twenty-four hours, and in thirty days cured my children this winter it never failed to relieve almost immediately.
